

THE ALMANACK

The Almanack: Spring Review

As one of our favourite places to eat The Almanack always serves up a good feast, as well as atmosphere and so, with their seasonal spring menu now available the Elite team decided to sample what delights were on offer during the pub's weekly Ladies Night event.

With champagne on arrival and a sample of canapés to entice, the team were seated in a comfy booth, within surroundings that were buzzing from all the pampering going on around them. However, choosing from the menu proved a real task with choice aplenty of which included succulent steaks, summer salads and mouth watering specials.

Starters

Cheese Fondue, crudités and country bread

"Goosey, warm and delicious, a perfect dish for any cheese lover, plus something very different and fulfilling. I loved it!" Editor, Nikki Boyd.

Free Range Chicken Pâté with apricot and ginger chutney on granary toast

"I really love my pâté and this was sublime. The chutney on the side really complimented the flavours and it was just the right portion to keep room for main!" Company Director, Jenny Cross.

Soup of the Day – Broccoli and Stilton with crusty bread

"The crusty homemade style bread and the warm soup really went well, with the flavours of the stilton not too overpowering on the broccoli. A really nice mix." Accounts Manager, Rachael Garrard.

Mains

Cornish Lamb Leg Steaks with dauphinoise and minted peas

Free Range Chicken and Bacon Caesar Salad with anchovies

"A great healthy option which is in no way boring, but in fact gives a real twist on the traditional Caesar and a good portion size as well!" Director, Jenny.

Scottish Salmon Fishcake with spinach and tomato butter sauce

"A really refreshing option to the meat dishes, I found the salmon perfectly cooked and a lighter option to that of a big dinner, really nice!" Accounts Manager, Rachael.

Dessert

With such delightful and delicious dishes served up only one of the team found room and delved in for dessert and the verdict was very positive!

Hot Chocolate Brownie and Vanilla Ice Cream

"You really can't go wrong with chocolate and the warm brownie was by far the best dessert I've had in a while, a chocoholic heaven!" Elite Team Member, Tara.
