

* THE £20 RESTAURANT HERTFORDSHIRE

Perched on the Grand Union Canal, The Old Mill in Berkhamsted is a beautifully restored gastropub retaining many of its original Georgian and Victorian features. You'll find Bombardier and Old Speckled Hen real ales on tap, an impressive wine list, plus brilliant deli board bar snacks including cheese (Appleby's Cheshire, Tornegus, Fourme d'Ambert, Mini-Valençay, brie) or charcuterie (pastrami, ham hock terrine, mini chorizo, honey-roast ham) for terrific value at just £1.90 per item. Head chef Charlie Barr offers equally honest prices in her dining room, where you'll find the best of British seasonal ingredients, all responsibly sourced and ethically produced. Order lemon and chilli-spiked squid linguine, £5.50, followed by Eastwood's organic sausages and mash with tomato chutney, £10, and while away the afternoon as the canal boats chug by lazily outside.
